Pediatric Primary Care

Ambulatory Care Services

NYC Health + Hospitals/ Woodhull is affiliated with NYU Langone Medical Center. We are committed to providing comprehensive, culturally sensitive and accessible health services and programs to you and your family.

Pediatric Primary Care provides comprehensive services for children. The department is staffed by a multidisciplinary team of board-certified pediatricians who give you and your child the tools for a healthy start in life from the newborn nursery to our specialized adolescent program.

Our Pediatric Primary Care services ensure that your child's care continues from infancy through adolescence with:

- + Preventive health maintenance visits that include comprehensive evaluations, developmental assessments, and up-to-date immunizations
- + Special programs to target health issues that are important to our community, such as asthma case management, high-risk newborns, and lead screening.
- + Walk-in sick visits

The practice offers subspecialty services that include:

- + Adolescent Medicine
- + Asthma/Pulmonology
- + Cardiology
- + Developmental/ADHD
- + Endocrinology
- + Hematology
- + Neonatal High Risk
- + Nephrology
- + Rheumatology

Reach Out and Read

The practice also offers the Reach Out and Read and the Video Interaction programs that enhance your child's development through age appropriate play, reading, and parental interactions.
